THE DEDICATION OF THE LATERAN BASILICA

Pastor's Notes:

The Dedication of the Lateran Basilica:

This weekend we celebrate the dedication of the Basilica of St. John Lateran in Rome. No, not St. John Lutheran, as someone once gaffed! As one of its inscriptions says, this is the mother and head of all churches in Rome and throughout the world.

Unique among cathedrals, the Lateran Basilica (to use its short title) points directly to the Bishop of Rome, the successor of St Peter, the Supreme Pontiff. In the celebration of the Lateran Church, the Pope's Church, we are in effect also celebrating our own Church as well as our diocesan cathedral to which every diocesan church is intimately connected. In so doing, we are reaffirming our Catholic identity in and through the Sacraments which are celebrated in our Churches. Each local Church is then more than just a symbol of our faith. It is the place where the journey of faith begins, the place where we celebrate the great vocational commitments we make, and where the journey will eventually end.

Church Project Update:

I regret to have to share with you that as a result of additional internal repairs to the structure of the front of our Church, the cost of the completed project has increased to $ 22,437.00.

This makes all the more urgent my appeal for additional donations above and beyond what you so generously provide in the weekend collections that support our operating expenses and annual budget, not to mention all of the special collections for the Missions and related commitments throughout the year.

In light of this weekend's celebration of the role of our beautiful Church in our spiritual lives, I ask that you consider making a special effort in behalf of this project. As we approach Thanksgiving, we have much to be grateful for when we gather together in faith to worship the Lord here! May he richly reward your generosity!

With every blessing! Fr. Michael
