

Dear Parishioners,

I will be writing a more in-depth email next Friday, but I just wanted to let you know about a few quick things. First, the technological issues that had prevented us from conducting the live-streaming of the Mass have been resolved (hopefully!). Therefore, we will begin once again to live-stream the Sunday Mass each weekend by live-streaming the Sunday morning Mass at 8:30am from St. Mary's Church in Silver Bay. You can watch by going to your parish's website.

Second, with the Governor having made his announcement about school attendance yesterday, we will be talking over the next couple of weeks as a diocese and as a parish staff about how we will go about faith formation for both children and adults. For now I encourage you to stay tuned.

Finally, I will be out of town on Sunday afternoon through Tuesday evening this upcoming week. Father Lyons will be covering any sacramental emergencies for me during this time. There will therefore not be daily Mass at Holy Spirit on this Tuesday evening, August 4.

May God bless you all, and enjoy this beautiful weather!

Fr. Steve Laflamme
